

Lynwood

Log

*Published at irregular intervals by the Lynco Club
Holiday Issue*

2013

Please, Please

Don't dump leaves (or any other debris) into the lake. It pollutes the water.

Don't burn. This is not a fire issue. It is an air quality problem.

(And, please, young drivers, no cars in the lake.)

Let's Party

The neighborhood Christmas party is this Monday, December 2 at 6:30 at Natty Greene's on Elm Street. All are invited. No reservations are necessary. Select, order, and pay for your own entrée. Fellowship is on the house. Hope to see you there.

Let's Party Again

There will be a Christmas party for Lynwood kids this year. It's on December 7 from 10:00 -12 noon at the swim area. If the weather is not pleasant, the party will move indoors nearby. There will be games, activities, and treats. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will drop by. It will be a jolly time. Parents, please plan to party with your kids.

A Helpful Hint on Holiday Gift Giving

Suggest that your family exchange names.
This is a lot less expensive than exchanging gifts.

Happy Birthday

Neighbor Wilma Reitinger is turning 95 years young at the end of November. Best Wishes to Her!

Expect New Things

There will be new and improved membership forms and procedures for 2014. A letter of explanation along with forms will come to you in early January. Membership costs are not going up. The goal is to have all members paid up by May 31, 2014.

The Lake is Down

The water level is down for dock and wall improvements. In late January, however, the “gate” will be closed so the lake can refill from rain. We also have springs that feed our lake so we should be ready for summer.
Think summer.

A Holiday Message from your Lynco Board

Dear Occupant:

I'm sure that you've been waiting for our newsy Christmas letter
And wondering how we're doing – well, believe us – never better.

So much is going on. It's been a hectic year,
But we all have bought new cars and try not to hit the deer.

Our homes are looking lovely. Our grass is very green.
All our leaves have vanished. It's such a pretty scene.

And then there are our children who are beautiful and good.
They have scholarships to Harvard as we knew they surely would.

Our pets are also thriving. Jim's cat has passed a test
That shows that he's superior. He'll be at Harvard with the rest.

Some neighbors have been cranky. They think there's hanky-panky.
But all in all, the year's been grand. We found oil on Lynco land!

So we'll be sunning in Tahiti by the time this note arrives,
Here's wishing you a Christmas as exciting as our lives.

